LET'S TALK ABOUT MENTAL HEALTH

Mental Health includes our emotional, psychological, and social well-being. It affects how we think, feel, and act. It also determines how we handle stress, relate to others, and make healthy choices.

The Mental Health Coalition suggests the following ways to engage in self-care:

- Physical: Common activities are massages, hugging loved ones with their consent, fitness, dance, aromatherapy, rest, and boundary setting.
- Emotional: Ways to attend to your emotional self can include connecting with others, naming and acknowledging your emotions, psychotherapy, journaling or creative writing, art, and setting boundaries for your emotional well-being.
- Cognitive: Engages in activities that are intellectually rewarding and/or stimulating. This can include reading, writing, listening to books or podcasts, watching films, and psychotherapy.
- Spiritual: This can take many different forms and does not have to be tied to formal religion. It can include meditation, breathwork, prayer, connecting with a spiritual or religious community, and mantras.
